HOV. GEO. R. McKEE, of Pulaski.

THURSDAY, APRIL 1, 1858. The removal of Judge Loring from office by the Governor of Massachusetts upon the address of the Legislature of that Stale is a striking examremainder that a majority of the people of a State may at any time disregard constitutional restrictions, and, in defiance of them, legislate as they please. It would be well for Southern men, who are following after the false lights of Buchanan control of the state of the stat rines are leading them.

Judgs Loring was the Probate Judge of Suffolk county, Massachmetts. He was also appointed the United States Commissioner to carry out the devoted to school purposes, is fixed. We are gratified to observe that his one of all the respectable pupers published in the city of Boston has approved this act of unwarrantable neurpation and estates of constitutions. Nearly all of them denounce it as subversive of the great principle of popular sovereignty, yet it is a legitimate consequence of the startling detrine now boldly advocated by the Buchanan Democracy in the Seeth. It is the result of the doctrine enunciated in Mr. Bachanan's Lecompton message and zeal-couly supported by nearly the whole Lecompton faction of the Democratic party. It is the first fruits of this detestable and dangerous doctrine. It has been put in operation in Massachusetts to strike of the visit every county in the State, and, concentral states of the protection of the Federal Constitution for the protection of the Federal Constitution for the protection of the people of the Southern States in the possession of their slaves. In what further aggrees show upon the peculiar institutions of the South this radical and revolutionary bemocratic doctrine may had never regressions upon the peculiar institutions of the South this radical and revolutionary bemocratic doctrine may had never regressions to be fervised to the radical and revolutionary bemocratic doctrine may had never regressions. them. No one who listens to his fervid cloquence and strong, unanswerable arguments in favor of radical and revolutionary bemocratic doctrine may lead next remains to be seen. He evils may soon be fell, not indirectly, as in the case of the removal of Judge Laring, but directly hy an attempt, within the Sou hern States them elves, to trample upon all constitutional restrictions and to abolish slavery in the same hern States them elves, to trample upon all constitutional restrictions and to abolish slavery in the finance of the right of slaveholders and of the protections thrown around them by their State constitution. Let this decrine, which Southern Democrates are madly esponsing, be once recognized in a Southern State as correct, and the institution of slavery in that State will be immediately at the mercy of its fercest and most uncompromising enemies. We find in the Philidelphia American the following well-timed words of caution and sensible advice to the South upon this subject.

The next step in the course of events under our present adm in tration of law and practice will be the mod of some deience of the rights of Southern States against the revulutionary decrines of the President and his friends of the Lecompton stamp; and the conservative advocates of justee in Kanass with each first to offer the mesdees as a protection to refer may be set at the South, which, in snatch.

President and his friends of the Lecompton stamp; and the conservative advocates of justice in Kunsa, have done to refer the Suth, which, in small part of the state of the American party in four nate Sute at the Suth, which, in small point of security and find it falling in a stream of very moddy water. Does the South choose to see an logic as that emunicated by the beraburate or see an logic as that emunicated by the beraburate or solve the relations of master and alare through a majority in any bordering slave State instantly dissolve the relations of master and alare through a convention, as these men find it recember to assert for Kansass? It is the brishoes of extempore revolution consistent with the peace or safety if any State in which shavery is a real establishment, and not a have great in Kannas?

This course is, simply, revolution. Revolution is justifiable and excessary in Kannas if law and justice cannot prevail, but it is there necessary for these reasons unit. It is not a principle of our government that a temporary majority may, in defiance of forms and of greards, overtain the constitution of the majority in a propertion of the Lecompton policy find the messives compelled to take ground which

The steamboat belis gave the first alarm, and it was with the greatest difficulty the inmates were aroused. The two adjoining warehouses were of the same beight, and all the buildings had shingle roofs. The fire spread with great rapidity along the block, and all the buildings were on fire in the npper-story before the engines could get there. The efficiency of the steam engine was very apparent at this fire. It was stationed at the edge of the river, and at first it threw one tremendous strea as those on the other side of Bullitt street. A few of the hand engines were throwing water, but with little effect. Had there been two more steam engines, the whole block of buildings might have bee Mr. Councilman Gillies for this reformation of the fire department, who has urged it with ability and teal ever since he has been a member of that body Though his propositions were frequently defeated he persisted in renewing them until they were crowned with success.

The Commercial Ilouse was kept by Mr. Tull, who saved most of his furniture. He had an insurance on it of $1,600 in Capt. Sinton's offices. The milding was owned by Mrs. Gen. Stewart.

The two adjoining warehouses had but lately undergone repair. They were owned by Mr. Rupert and Mrs. Gen. Harney. In one of them some furniture from the wreck of the Princess was stored.

They were all saved.

The buildings of Mrs. Stewart and Mrs. Harne were insured for $2,000 each in the Franklin of thi city and in a Hartford agency.

Mr. Enpert had an insurance on his building

JACKSON, Miss., March 31.

There is great rejoicing here, amid the firing of cannon, in consequence of the completion of the New Orleans, Jackson, and Great Western railroad. The special Washington correspondence The Free Press says it was a clear case—he acknowledged the crime, but the great sympathy for his highly respectable father, whose name he forged, secured his acquittal.

New York Times writes under date of the 28th that the Lecomptonites boast condently that English and Foley, of Indiana, and Shaw, of Illinois, have agreed to go with them, and that McKibben will probably do the same. Navigation is open between this place and the MONTHEAL, March 31. The ice is backing up in the river, which will soon Bather an anussing affair occurred on board the steamer l'arkersburg, Capt. Hanley, plying between I'rakersburg and this city, on Monday. At the former place a young usen from Marietta came on board with a young female, whom he represented as his cousin, and look rooms for both. A person on board recognized the girl as of a very respectuble family above l'arkersburg, but did not know the "cousin" who secured the staterooms. Sasvicions that all was not right were communicated to the of ficers of the boat, and during the night the two were found occupying the same couch. Thinking that if not married they should be, the boat was stopped at the landing on the route, in the morning and some of the passengers having taken the morning and some of the passengers having taken the morter.

Connecticut liad 80 banks; 4 have failed, viz. North America, Colchester, Merchants' Exchange, and Granite. The tirst will resume soon, and the two last were shut up before the pauli countenced, by the Bank Commissioners, because they were not properly organized.

New York city had 55 banks in good credit when the panic broke out, the notes of which are all redeemed at par, and the depositors of all, except the Island City, are being paid in full,

New York State had 273 banks in active business and good credit, 6 of which have failed to redeem their notes, viz: Orleuns, Hamilton Exchange, Ontario, Pratt, of Buffalo, Reciprocity alias Sacket's Harbor, and Yakes County. Several others have gone into liquidation, and it is uncertain yet whether the depositors can all be paid in full.

New Jersey had 55 lanks: the America, the flergen County, and the Morris County are the only ones now remaining in discredit. It is conidently stated that the Morris County will be sume soon.

We will go through the remaining States next week.
